Arrival

Day 1

Upon arrival to Amsterdam you will be escorted to our Flying High Airline shuttle bus. Where we will drive you to your expected hotels. Giving you time to unpack and decompress from your flight.

Since the tour doesn't officially start till the following day. Day 1 is a free day for you to explore Amsterdam in your own way. Meet locals and get to better know your way around the city. We ask this in case of an emergency and you get lost or away from the group during the tour you're able to find your way or to feel comfortable enough to ask for help from locals. Remember almost all locals are fluent in English as well as Amsterdam having such a diverse community chances are someone is able to help.

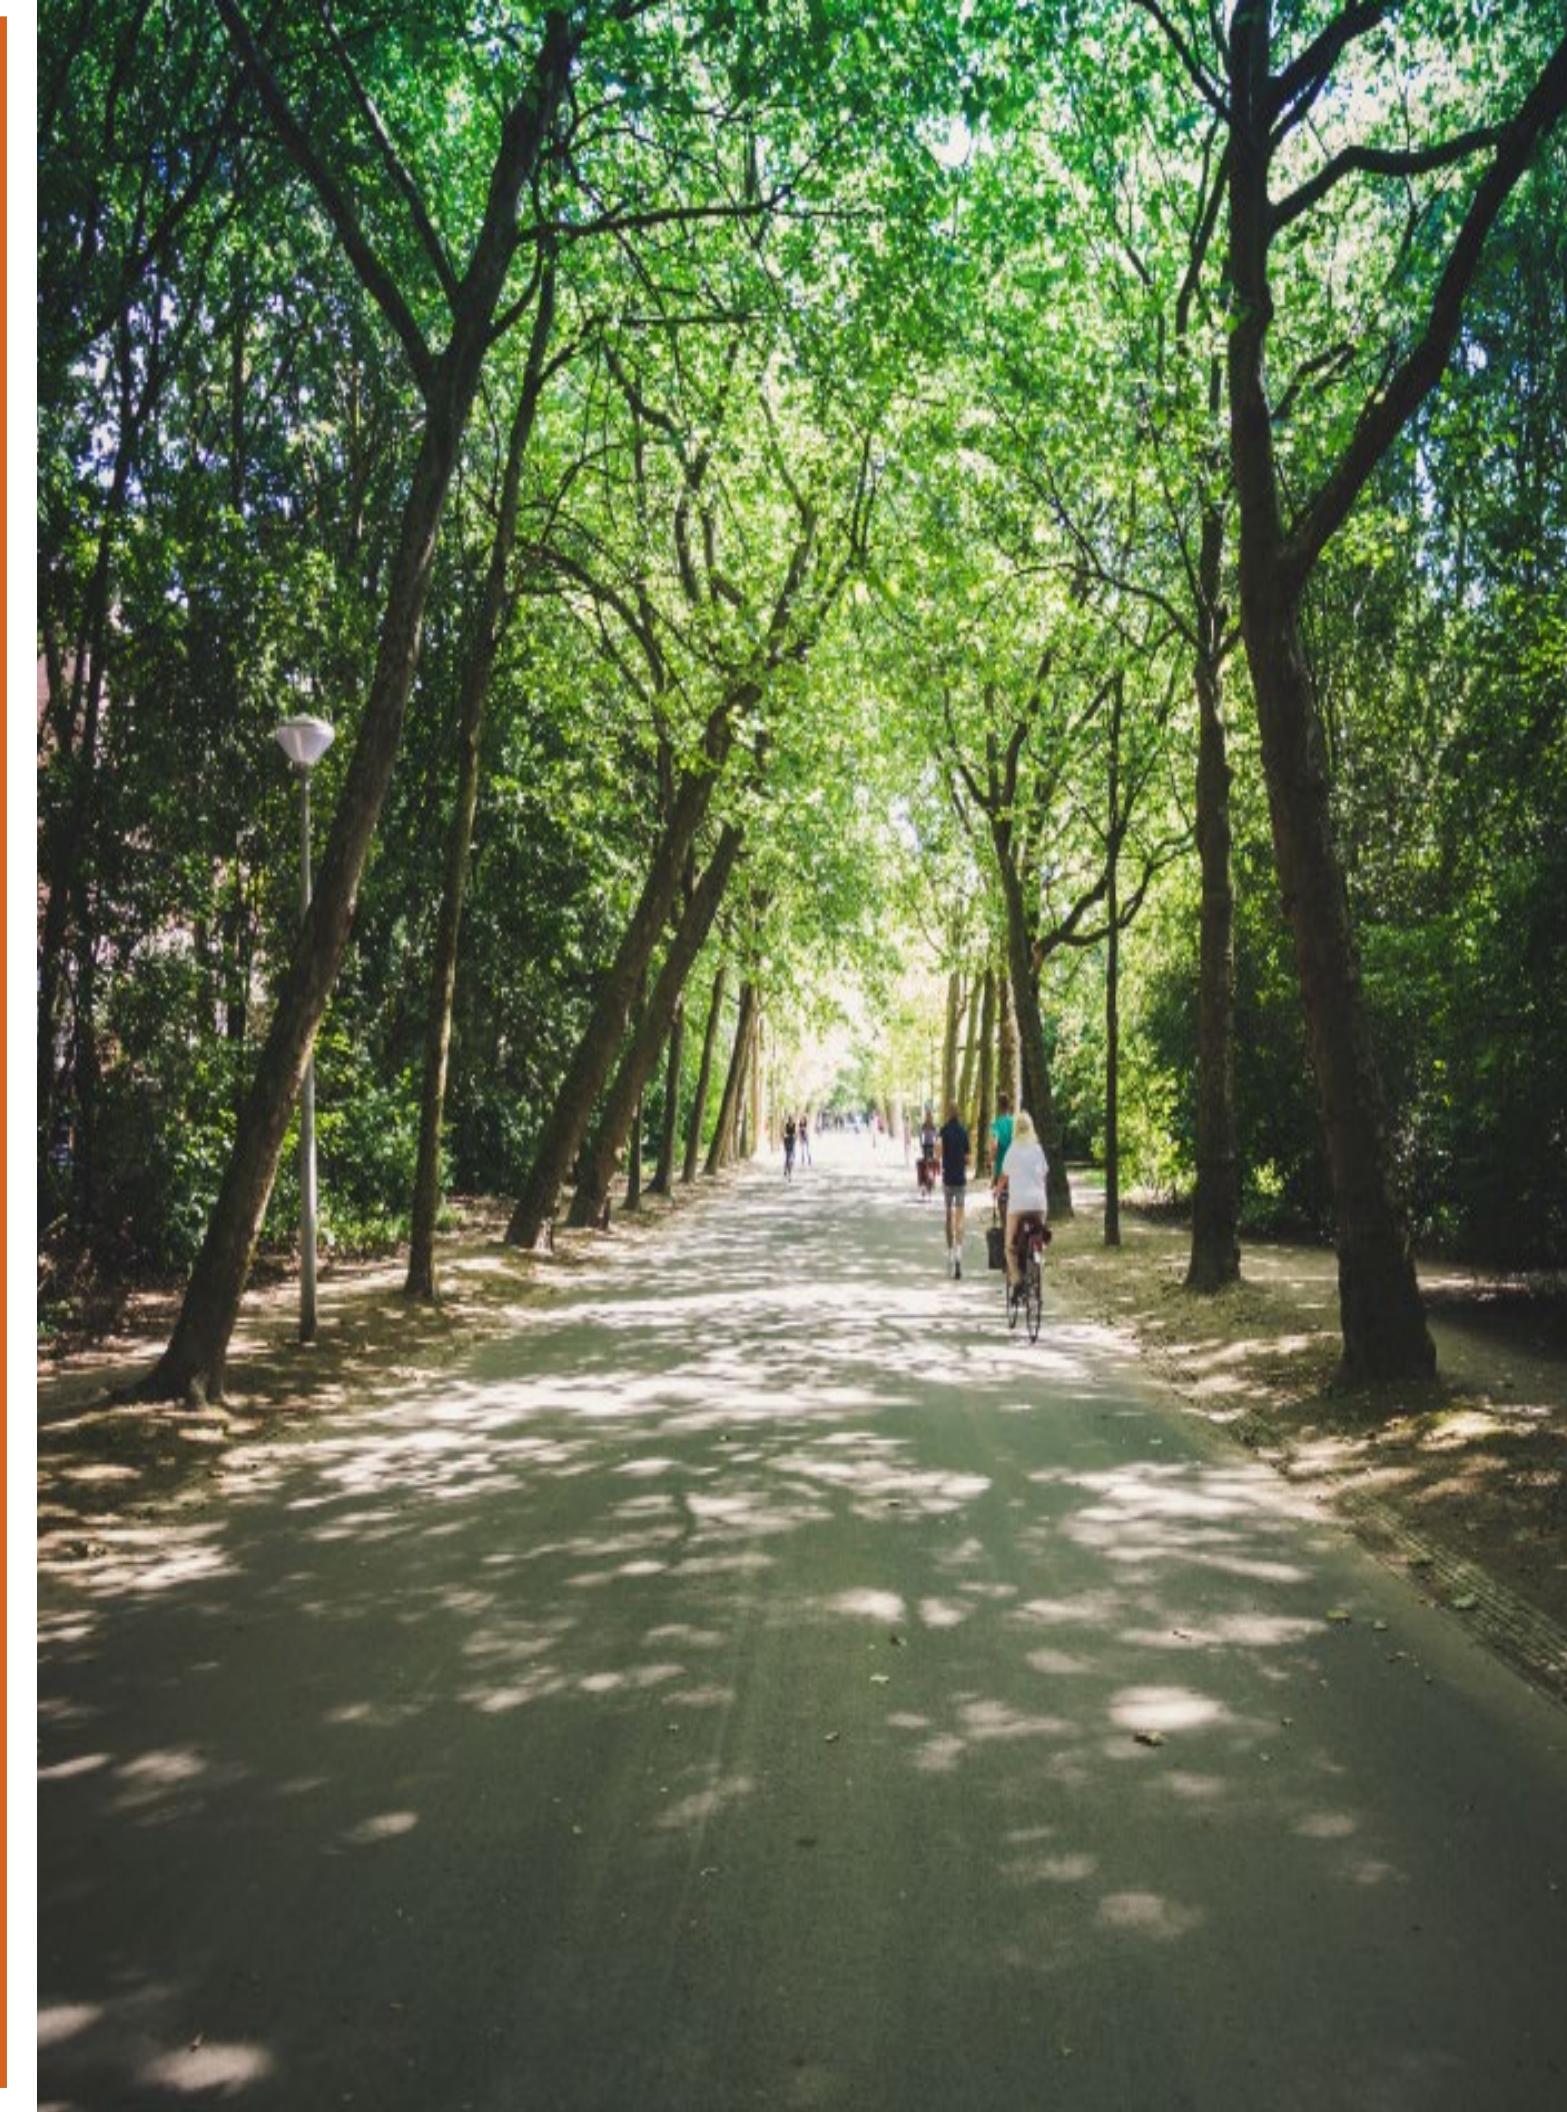

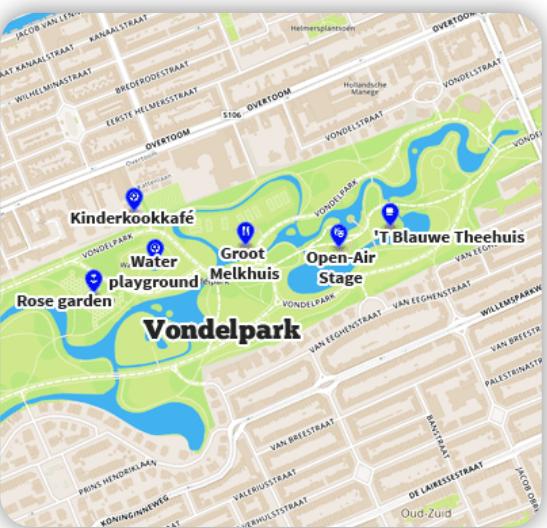

Vondelpark

Vondelpark is a 120 acres of pure beauty. Located in the heart of Amsterdam, Some may say its just a city park. But for others its an escape from their day to day lives. Hosting park festivals as well multiple restaurants and even an open-air theatre.

Day 2

On day 2 well do light walk around the park followed by lunch in one of the many restaurants. After that well head over to the bike rentals, where we will pick our bikes and check out some of the bike trails Vondelpark has to offer. Lastly well we'll relax and unwind with a live performance in the open-air theatre.

Dam Square

Dam Square (or Dam) is Amsterdam's town square. Home to the Royal Palace and the Nieuwe Kerk (15th century church). With its notable buildings its frequented events make it one of the most well-known and important locations in the city and the country.

Day 3

For day 3 we'll take a nice tour around Amsterdam's glorious town square. Well go over the history of the square and get a good look inside the Royal Palace. As well as Nieuwe Kerk church. After a long day of history class well celebrate by letting everyone explore the town square and check out all the wonderful stores and cafes in the surrounding area.

Red Light District

The infamous Red Light District, chances are you have heard about this neighborhood and to be frank, everything you have heard is probably true. From brothels to sex shops to museums, the Amsterdam Red Light District has it all. But contrary to what a lot of people think, the Amsterdam Red Light District has a very friendly atmosphere and isn't as dangerous as it once was.

Day 4

For this day there will be two different options for everyone. Due to the R-rated content will be seeing today we'll ask each individual if they wish to proceed with the tour of the Red Light District. The tour will consist of walking down the main strip as well as seeing some unique pubs along way. Followed by checking out some of the interesting museums in the area and explore Amsterdam's openness to there sexual desires.

If you voted to opt out of the Red Light District no worries, we've prepared a similar tour for the day. Minus the R-rated sites. We've planned out to go see many museums the area such as, The Madame Tussaud wax museum, Body Worlds where human bodies are dissected, Rembrandt House. Well then go for lunch in the upper end of Amsterdam and then go and see the Openbare Bibliotheek. A very futuristic modern looking library. A true sight to see.

Canals

Besides providing a stunning backdrop to the city's historical center floating down Amsterdam's canals is one of the most memorable ways to discover the city's sights and attractions. Whether you're a first timer or frequent visitor, everything in Amsterdam seems a bit more magical when viewed from a boat.

Day 5

As you can assume this day is reserved for the water. If you have a problem with being on the water just consult with your tour guide. Otherwise enjoy the proper way to take in the beauty of Amsterdam. Well float our way down the whole city making stops for some selected shops and pubs which are usually a bit difficult to reach since Amsterdam consists of 90 different islands. This will be our longest tour of the week due to the vast amount of canals as well as we want to show our guests the difference of the beauty of this city compared from day to night.

Cafés

Theres no shortage of cafes in Amsterdam. With over 160 shops to choose from you'll always have a new pick. But not all shops may be the ones your looking for. Make sure to check to see if its a weed Cafe or non-weed Cafe. Ending up in the wrong one can leave you disappointed or facing a hefty fine. We want to give our guests the last day to relax and fully unwind from the tiring trip. What better way then to relax with a food and drinks and possibly something a little more.

Day 6

Similar with the Red Light District well be giving to options of tours. A weed Cafe tour and a non-weed Cafe tour. With the weed tour well make many stops along the way showing the love Amsterdam has for taking a break reality and letting your mind wonder. While also enjoying some delicious food and drinks.

For the non-weed tour well still enjoy ourselves with some tasty drinks and treats but as well as check out the famous Hard Rock Cafe Amsterdam. Possibly partake in some gambling.

The Culture

The Dutch are one of the most famous people for generosity and tolerance. Even back to the olden times where people all over europe would come to the Netherlands for acceptance of there race, religion, or gender. Netherlands flag consists of red, white, blue. That being said the locals are all fanatic of the color orange. As it stands for the Dutch Royal Family. And can be seen in the Prince of Nassau's coat of arms.
